4-H CLUB WEEK
The week of September 25-October 2 has been designated National 4-H Club Week in America. The theme for this year's observance is Learning for Living. Over 1,000 4-H Club members in Coffee County will be observing this special week. 4-H is the largest organization for boys and girls in the United States and has trained millions of young boys and girls in farm and home projects, in citizenship, leadership, and also in other areas. We are planning some special newspaper articles during this week. We hope you will be watching for them.

LIME

A letter from Dr. Fred R. Robertson, Director of the Auburn University Extension Service, was received last week outlining plans for lime promotion week which will be held September 13-18. We have a lot of materials and information calling attention to the need for lime on Coffee County soils. A liming program as needed in Coffee County can add millions to the farm income in the years ahead.

CLEANING STEAM IRONS
With school clothes to iron once again, your steam iron may need some attention. If it spits and sputters, it's sending out a distress signal for help. Here's what you can do to clean out your iron.

Add cold water to the iron when it is cold, turn the temperature to high and place the iron face down on a cake rack to steam out. Next, fill with a half water and half vinegar solution after the iron has cooled. Set the dial on high and again let the iron steam out on the cake rack. Finally, the rinse step, refill the cool iron with cold water, heat it and steam it out. This step will rinse out the vinegar and should not be omitted. Though this cleaning takes only a couple of hours, proper care of your iron can lengthen the time between cleanings. Using tap water is one of the reasons steam irons stop up. Minerals in the water clog the vents and even leave deposits on the sole of the iron.

ter weather is no longer a laundry problem to the homemaker who owns a dryer. Besides overcoming the inconvenience of having to plan washday around the weather, minutes saved in "hanging time" are considerable. When line-drying clothes, the average homemaker walks 40 miles a year and goes up and down stairs, reaching, stretching and bending. Twenty eight-hour days a year can be saved by using a dryer. And, a clothes dryer results in less housework. Lin is removed rather than carried in with the clothes or blown into the house from out-of-doors. Ironing time can also be cut in half if the dryer is properly

SPRAY STARCH
If spray starches have been giving you trouble here are a few hints on how to use them correctly. Shake the can vigorously before every use. Protect the ironing board cover and all nearby furniture for it's difficult to keep spray in a small area. If the can has been unused for more than a day, spray the first burst of starch into the sink. Clean the soleplate of your iron often so starch will not scorch the iron, and always clean the iron when finished.

Those who have no eye for beauty should remember that there is a $100 fine if convicted of throwing rubbish on the highways.

The Elba Country Club members who desire reservations and tickets for the fashion show and luncheon to be held September 25th should contact Mrs. J. M. Kimmy, Mrs. Max Cook or Mrs. Ben Brock.

The Elba Quaterback Club held its regular meeting Tuesday night at 7:15 in the recreation building at the pool. The members discussed increasing the membership, advance tickets to the football games, transportation home for the players, and the supper to be served next Tuesday night.

This supper will be held at the recreation center and all members and prospective members are urged to attend. Time for the supper is 7:15.

The Elba Tigers made a packed stadium of supporters happy Friday night when they swamped the Brantley Bulldogs by a score of 34 to 7.

The score does not tell the whole story of Elba's strength though, because Blackmon, who returned Coach Wendall Hart didn't play his starting players with an intercepted pass from the 15 yard line and followed a practice seen in the jamboree game two weeks ago which was to play as many of the boys Martin.

The Elba Tigers displayed some superb downfield blocking Friday night that allowed the runner to get on to score when, with eleven experienced players.

Elba took the first quarter of the ballgame to get their bearings and feel out the opposing team and then turned loose in the second quarter with two touchdowns and one extra point to post a halftime score of 13-0.

After the half the Tigers scored another touchdown in the third quarter to bring the score to 20-0 and two

Barber, of Troy, Department Commander, American Legion, this week urged the Commanders of Alabama's 220 Legion Posts to initiate a program of voter registration among their membership and their families.

Said Commander Barber, "Encouragement of active participation in the affairs of government through serious and objective use of the ballot has long been the policy of the American Legion. This is not a partisan effort, but rather an exercise in good citizenship."

He further urged that all Alabama War Veterans from which the Legion secures its membership, make every effort to assure the registration of members of their families who are eligible to vote.

Barber made it clear in his message to the Legionnaires that the Legion does not endorse any political party, group, or candidate at any time.

I WAS very proud of Linda Folsom in her performance Saturday night. She made all the others of the top ten look small in comparison to her in talent. She should have been selected as Miss America and in my book she was it.

IN A RECENT column of hints to homeowners one especially caught my eye and it really works. Remove wrappings from toilet soap and put them in dresser drawers, closets, and among the pillows. It helps prevent mildew and makes clothes smell lovely.

OF INTEREST to a lot of men at last a breakthrough in baldness research, we're told. In a recent article was a hair-raising story that may have a happy ending for millions said Albert L. Mayer, who said that for 30 of his 78 years, he was bald as an ostrich egg, but today he has grown hair on his head. He admitted that it is not a shaggy, Beate-like mane, but it is hair. The fact that this man has had any regrowth constitutes, according to The Journal of the Medical Association, a major "baldness breakthrough."

Within two years, stated Dr. Christopher M. Papa, a 29-year-old dermatologist at the University of Pennsylvania, the future may be brighter for the bald. To the impatient among his balding patients, he points out that one of man's oldest medical documents, the 4,000-year-old Ebers Papyrus, contained the first known medical remedy for baldness: "Take equal parts of the fat of a lion, a hippopotamus, a crocodile, a goose, a peacock, and ibex and apply liberally to the bald pate."

Sixteen of the 21 treated subjects have shown indisputable hair growth, according to Dr. Papa, but he says that his work in the field of baldness

I know some boys in this neck of the woods who would like to get in on that "hair-raising" project. And I know a couple who hasn't been seen without a hat on for years. I'm wondering if they sleep in the woods.

FALL is in the air and so is hiking and visiting the woods. My grandchildren have a big project of hunting arrowheads, bugs, snakes and anything else that even might be found in the woods.

Sherry, who is studying science for the first time, is just about to work us all to death finding things to take to school and because she is so busy the others demand the same attention. Sunday afternoons are spent in the woods and if there is anything to be found Sherry will find it including arrowheads, snakes, bugs and even running up deer and turkeys. She would be an excellent companion to take a long on hunting trips but she wouldn't let a hunter shoot the animal when found.

Snakes, she wants to take to school after he has been shot or clubbed to death. This week a large dangerous and furious worm was brought to The News office. I telephoned Sherry that she could have him for her science class. Before they got to the office to pick him up that worm had crawled out of the box I had put him in several times and had just about scared the daylight out of the girls here, including me, several times. Even after she hounded her mother to bring her down to get that worm, we were a little scared of "where that box had sat" right until we left.

The worm, according to W. N. Stephenson of the USDA, who was good enough to come down and recognize him for us, is called a Hickory Horned Devil.

 and I can agree that is a good name for him for a real devil, he looked like.

THE PRIVATE "WAR ON POVERTY". The government's antipoverty program is coming in for much criticism. Charges of "bureaucracy" are common. So far, it is said, most of the benefits seem to have gone to a well-paid administrative bureaucracy - relatively few to the poor.

Meanwhile, U. S. News & World Report observes, "... private employers are creating millions of jobs in a 'poverty war' of their own." About 6 million of these jobs have come into existence in the last five years - 2.2 million in 1964 alone. And, to quote the magazine again, "... the private 'war on poverty' has been particularly helpful to those Negroes, teen-agers, and others who were without education, skills or experience."

Whatever the government program may ultimately achieve, the most effective weapon against poverty is dynamic, expanding, socially-conscious private enterprise.

IN ONE POCKET - OUT ANOTHER. The welfare state comes high - and the price goes ever higher.

For the typical wage earner, the increase in Social Security taxes will wipe out 60 per cent or more of the income tax cut he received in 1964.

As an example, the dispatch tells of a man with a wife and two children earning $6,000 a year, which is the top base on which social security taxes are levied and which is also about the national median income. His income tax reduction was around $140. Next year's social security tax load will take something like $103 of that - and, under current schedules, there will be a further increase of $13 in 1967 and still another of $33 in 1969.

YOUR Health

BLACK EYE

Why do you get a black eye? A handkerchief or washrag soaked in cold water will do much, however, as the object is to minimize discoloration of the ocular contusion which is the medical term for black eye.

A black eye is often the occasion for some ribbing from friends, but never be little a black eye. After a blow to the eye, whether or not it becomes discolored, medical aid should be secured without delay if there is any loss of vision, detachment of the retina may have occurred, and this may lead to blindness in the eye if treatment is delayed.

An accurate estimation of the condition of an eye which has suffered a contusion is sometimes difficult because of swelling, pain, intolerance to light, and possibly hemorrhage. Injuries to the eye often occur in cases of general injury, especially in automobile accidents; and the injured person is not always able to call attention to every affected part of his body.

In the emergency room of a hospital where an injured person has been brought, the degree of shock may be such that a physician cannot immediately determine how much the patient sees or does not see. When the physician is observing an injured person and discovers that one or both eyes have been involved in the accident, he must determine the extent of the injury, give immediate treatment, and possibly refer the patient to an eye specialist. In cases of injury, the physician must determine if the damage is superficial or penetrating; if there is damage to vision, and if complications are likely to develop. Who started that beefsteak business, anyhow?

Sparkman Cites Good Business Sign

Gross postal receipts in Alabama increased between January, 1960, and January, 1965, by almost 43 per cent—from $26.4 million to $37.7 million, Senator John Sparkman (D., Ala.) announced recently.

"Because 80 per cent of mail volume is generated by business firms," Sparkman stated, "the volume of mail in any area is considered a good indicator of business activity. In view of the uncertainty in some quarters about the rate of Alabama's business growth, I asked the Post Office Department in Washington to prepare for me a five-year summary of our State's postal activity."

Sparkman said the special survey showed: Alabama's mail volume increased by more than 11 per cent.

There was in January, a total of 6,974 postal employees—up 7 per cent. The State's postal payroll at $41.5 million was up 25 per cent.

The number of first class offices rose from 55 to 70.

Second class offices went up from 100 to 119. Third class offices increased by 14 to 295.

Fourth class post offices declined from 302 to 227.

In addition, Sparkman said, Alabama gained 101 new post office buildings costing more than $6 million—plus a $3.5 million Dothan office building, a new Federal building in Mobile, and a new building in Dothan.

Kelly Springs near Dothan offers camping, fishing, boating and a general building in Mobile, and a new building in Dothan.

Elba BPW Presents $100 Scholarship

The Elba Business and Professional Women's Club presented a $100 scholarship to Judy Smith, a senior at Troy State College in Enterprise, Miss Joseph B. Talridge, Dean of the college and instructor of American history, was the guest of the club and gave some information about the college. The opening date will be September 27 and classes will begin in January. Course requirements will be the same as those at Troy State College and Auburn University for those students who intend to transfer to a 4 year college. A two-year course of study will also be offered.

BPW members and guests present at the meeting were Mable Lawless, president, Myrtle Sellers, Adeline Prescott, Betty Roberts, Brenda Wallace, Wendis Morrow, Mary McCall, Luna Delle Rino, Luna Mae Harper, Zelma Devane, Corine Lowrey, Sandra Carpenter, Annie Lee Vaughan, Nellie Martin, Linda Donaldson, Gladys Clark, and Marilyn Arnold.

The Elba City Council held its regular meeting at the City Hall Monday night with all members present. The main order of business was an ordinance concerning the payment of the general obligation bonds sold to build the new school. These bonds are set up to be repaid at certain times and the bondholders have special ways they want the gasoline tax and other monies handled in anticipation of the repayment.

There was some question from the council and the school board about the wording of the ordinance and the city fathers voted to have the bondsmen come to Elba and explain it to them. The interest on the money for 1960 will be $15,000 and the wording on how much of this and the principal payment that was to be banked each year was not clear. The council and the school board members also in question was the disposition of the interest of the money which will draw from the bank between now and January first.

In other business the council voted to install a new engine block assembly in a city truck that is inoperative and to send the City Attorney, Garth Lindsey, to the SBA Seminar in Mobile on September 24th.

Council Discusses Bonds With School Board

The Elba Rotary Club held their regular meeting Monday at the Elba County Club.

Harold Deal was in charge of the program and had as his speaker the Reverend W. A. Thomas, of the Elba Assembly of God Church.

The John Coffee Chapter of the American Revolution will observe Constitution Week with a luncheon at the Enterprise Country Club Saturday, September 25th at twelve o'clock which will also include the celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the American Revolution. The John Coffee Chapter includes a number of Elba residents.

Mrs. Grover Flowers, State Chairman of Constitution Week, will be guest speaker. Mrs. Flowers is well known throughout the State for her ability as a speaker as well as for her many activities in behalf of community, educational, historical and patriotic interests.

All members and guests will be given an opportunity to display cherished heirlooms as well as share in the viewing of the heirloom table.

Training To Increase At Ft. Rucker

The increase in Army training programs announced today by Department of the Army in Washington will hike the training load at Fort Rucker by approximately 65 per cent. Currently, the Army Aviation School has 2,091 officers and enlisted men taking courses of training. By mid-1966, this figure will be up to 3,354.

These figures reflect increases in aviator and mechanic training previously announced by Major General John J. Tolson, commanding general of Fort Rucker.

In addition to the extra students, permanent party personnel at Fort Rucker are to be increased by 1,800 military and civilians.

General Tolson also announced today an accelerated system for training mechanics for the UH-1 helicopter, which is Army aviation's workhorse vehicle in the Republic of Vietnam.

Effective October 15, the training time for UH-1 mechanics will be trimmed by three weeks, from 15 weeks to 10 weeks. Previously, UH-1 mechanics had to take three courses prior to graduation: initial entry, single-engine observation helicopter and a course specializing in the UH-1.

Under the new program, they will take only two courses: the initial entry and UH-1.

General Tolson commented that the revised training program will result in providing units with trained mechanics in a shorter time without any sacrifice in quality of the training.

The Elba Tigers turned out to be a close game into a one-sided affair with their 18-0 win over Luverne Friday night in Tiger Stadium before an estimated crowd of 1,000. The Elba fans were a bit uneasy when Shirley seemed to be unable to catch his breath but good medical attention and strong medicine should clear the virus by the time the game is over.

The superb offensive playing by the Elba Tigers was upstaged only by their own determined defensive playing which allowed Luverne only seven first downs to twelve for Elba.
